

MUAI RESIDENTS ARE UNEASY.

Deeply Rooted Fear of a Cholera Outbreak on the Island.

Chinese Immigrants Released from Quarantine at Spreckelsville—Lahaina People Refuses to Receive Freight—Funeral of Ex-Gov. Everett.

MAUI, Sept. 10, 1895.—The state of feeling on Maui is feverish in the extreme; every report or rumor sets the public pulse wildly throbbing. There seems to exist an unspoken, though deeply rooted, fear of a cholera outbreak on the island. News from infected Honolulu is eagerly sought from all sources. Rumors of cholera in Lahaina and Hana are of frequent occurrence, but without the slightest foundation. It is said that there are three cases of something resembling the dreaded disease in Lahaina, and that two Japanese from Hamakua were recently stopped at Wailuku, the authorities not permitting them to make their intended journey to the hottest town in Maui.

Then there is an insipient famine in vogue; barley has advanced to $40 a ton, rice to $10 a bag, and No. 1 flour to $2.

The U. S. S. Olympia is anchored in the Lahaina roadstead, and on Saturday, the 7th instant, brought the news of fifty cases and thirty-six deaths.

Yesterday the steamer Hawaii touched at Kahului and brought the report of sixty-two cases and forty-eight deaths, two foreigners being included. This steamer reached Honolulu from the island of Hawaii on Monday, the 9th, and not being allowed to make a landing, immediately set sail for Maui. She takes Honolulu mail today.

During Friday, the 6th, the 130 odd Chinese recently quarantined at Camp 4, Spreckelsville, after being most thoroughly disinfected, were allowed to go their way. These celestials were in the best of health and condition.

Awana, one of the Belgic's passengers, states that he knew of but two Japanese dying on the voyage—one after six days' and the other after two or three days' sickness. He is doubtful whether it was cholera, but says that there was much vomiting and purging.

It is stated that Lahaina people, feeling that the warmth and stillness of the atmosphere are favorable for an epidemic, refused to receive freight recently brought up by the Kilaua Hou. She, however, landed freight at Olowalu and then departed for Kaupo, Kipahulu, Hana and Kahului.

The steamer W. G. Hall of last week brought up $4000 in coin for Wailuku paymasters. Hamakua-poko plantation is feeling the lack of silver with which to pay off its laborers.

On Thursday afternoon of the 5th inst. the funeral of ex-Governor Thomas W. Everett took place at his late residence in Waikapu. Dr. E. G. Beckwith, of Paia, conducted the last sad rites. There was a large attendance of friends in spite of the rain, which kept away many Makawao residents. The deceased was buried beside his beloved wife in the grounds of the Waikapu homestead.

During Saturday afternoon of the 7th fifty-seven head of horses, mares and colts were sold at auction at Haleakala ranch. They netted an average of $10 per head. George Hons, of Wailuku, was auctioneer.

On Monday, the 22d, a most enjoyable dancing party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Gilhus, of Hamakua.

R. I. Moore, D. D. S. is still busy at Paia. He expects soon to visit Spreckelsville.

In the Kula section the corn is so high as to extend several feet above the head of a man on horseback. The fields are veritable corn forests.

The W. G. Hall was telephoned as passing Lahaina at 4 p. m. on Saturday, the 7th, headed for Honolulu. Everybody imagined that after leaving her Maui mail on Friday she was on her way to Hawaii.

No sailing vessels at Kahului. Weather: A heavy frost reported far down Haleakala's slope; wind and rain storm during Sunday, the 8th.

A Vessel Manned by Monks.
An Odessa letter of recent date says: One of the oddest vessels afloat arrived a few days ago in Odessa, and is now moored on the lower quay. She belongs to the convent on Mount Athos, and is called The Holy Prophet Ilya (Elias). She is brig rigged, and sails under the Turkish flag, but a Greek cross is carried on both mastsheads, and she differs from the ordinary Turkish ships by her scrupulous cleanliness. The captain is a Jeromonach, a monk ranking higher than a friar, and all the sailors are monks or lay brothers; still they are expert seamen.

The pilot, Father Iraklij (Heraclius), has crossed all the oceans and zones, sailing around the wide world since 1866. The entire crew speak both Russian and Greek. Service on the ship alternates with worship in the little church in the fore-castle. It is quite a curious sight to behold these monks in their long frocks and sandals climbing up the masts, along the yard arms, reefing sails, or hanging almost over the water on the foremast point of the bowsprit.

The brig brought here a load of bricks from Constantinople, and goes in ballast to Mariopol, whence she will take a cargo of flour, corn, fish and other provisions, which are to furnish the supply for the convent for a whole year.

According to the sailor monk's own statements The Holy Prophet Ilya is a smart sailor, and runs 11 knots an hour in fair wind. She is 105 feet long and carries a cargo of 200 tons.

Several years ago I was taken with a severe attack of flux. I was sick in bed about ten days and could get nothing to relieve me, until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured me, and has been a household remedy with us ever since. And she pointed mutely to her balloon sleeves.—Chicago Record.

Twenty-seven war vessels were added to the British navy last year, exclusive of five torpedo boats, at a cost of about $12,000,000. The record for 1895 will go even beyond this. England is enlarging her navy with even more zeal than ever before.

WORK OF LYING DASTARDS.

Board of Health Charged with Burying People Alive.

ANONYMOUS POSTERS IN HAWAIIAN

Preposterous and Outrageous Statements Disseminated by Evil-Minded Persons—Hanging too Good for the Authors if Found—Copy of the Notice.

It has been noticed frequently that in times such as the present cholera epidemic, evil-minded and spitefully inclined natures take advantage of the occasion to spread dastardly and untruthful reports for the purpose of gratifying their own wicked minds and gaining a morbid satisfaction from the evil effects of their actions.

Bright and early Sunday morning there was seen pasted on the corner of King and Nuuanu, Alakea and King, Emma and Beretania, and on Chaplain street near Nuuanu avenue, posters written with pencil in the Hawaiian language. The one on the corner of King and Nuuanu was on a telephone post just a few inches from the ground. One at the corner of Emma and Beretania streets had been removed before the arrival of the police officers sent out to collect all that could be found. Following is a translation of the contents of the posters:

NOTICE.

"Know all men that I, the undersigned, hereby make public statements of what has been done among us, the substance of which is as follows:

"Two living souls were brought to Makiki cemetery recently for burial; their mouths were waxed and hands bound. They were placed in coffins. At the burial ground, the coffins were opened. In one of them a man was found; in the other, a woman. Both were alive. They were taken out of the coffins and cared for and are being feeling better. At present they are as to the cause of said action. They answered that they had received such treatment because they would not take medicine from the Board of Health doctor. Oh! What a pity. The 'Aloha Aina' committee ought to keep an eye on this. The coffins were buried without the souls. (China boy) H. B. Ikemaka (Eyewitness)."

Up to a late hour nothing had been learned respecting the author of the notice.

EDMUND GIFFARD INJURED.

Thrown From a Runaway Horse Late Saturday Afternoon.

Edmund B. Giffard met with a painful accident while out riding late Saturday afternoon. The animal owned by him is rather spirited and became unmanageable while going along Hotel street. Breaking into a run the horse made for Cart's stable, where it is kept, and turned into Richard street at break-neck speed. When near the stable the horse struck the edge of the sidewalk near the corner of the tennis grounds, and so great was the speed of the animal that it broke the fence and slid several feet into the grounds.

Young Giffard was thrown violently to the ground, and for a time appeared to be dangerously injured. He was bruised about the head and unconscious when picked up. Dr. Herbert was sent for and arrived on the scene in a few moments. The injured man was taken to the residence of the doctor and cared for. Examination proved that no bones were broken, though the wound on the head might develop concussion of the brain. It was an hour or more before young Giffard became conscious, and after receiving medical attention, was taken to the residence of his brother, W. M. Giffard, on Beretania street.

It was learned last night that no serious results will follow the accident, and the young man will be able to attend to business in a day or so. The only injury he received was a bruise on the side of the head and several scratches about the face.

The accident was witnessed by several persons, who rendered assistance at once and notified his brother. It was a miracle that the young man escaped being killed. The horse was badly scratched about the body and limbs.

WITHOUT STOPPING WORK.

An unusual, and probably an unprecedented achievement is reported from Boston. The art of moving buildings has now attained such advancement that it is common to shift a dwelling from one site to another without inconveniencing the occupants. But it is a more serious matter to handle in the same way a big shop in which machinery is in operation. This, however, has been done successfully. The building in question was three stories high and 175 feet long and built of brick. It was necessary to move it 300 feet in one direction and 50 in another. As the first floor was laid directly on the ground, of course all the machines in the basement were taken out; but everything on the second and third floor was kept at work. Power was supplied by a 20 horse power electric motor on the second floor. This derived its current through a wire leading to a dynamo in a shed adjoining the factory. At the start most of the wire was coiled up, but as the two building grew further and further apart, the wire unwound. Of course, if belting or gearing had been employed to communicate power from the engine to the shop, it would have been impossible to continue operations. Before the building was moved, it was tied together with iron crossroads and underwent the ordeal without injury. Another building of the same dimensions (really, a part of the first), will soon be shifted in a similar manner. A new power plant is being erected on the new site, and will be ready for business before the old one is discharged from service.—Exchange.

HOOD'S.

Mr. R. H. Bishop
Hamamton, N. J.

"C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs: I have been in poor health for 20 or 25 years, and have been taking doctors' medicines more or less all the time. I did not get much relief. My blood was in a bad shape and my system was all run down. I thought I must die, but noticing several testimonials in the papers in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla I bought three bottles and found that it did me so much good that I continued taking it. I was without appetite, sleeplessly aching, and had a headache most all the time. In fact I cannot describe my feelings. After using one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla I found it was doing me much good and now I cannot praise the medicine too much for what it has done for me. I am a disabled soldier 60 years old and was afflicted with many ailments, including kidney, bronchitis, and catarrh. Since using 6 bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I am like another man. In fact I think Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my life." R. H. Bishop, Box 400, Hamamton, N. J.
